MAUI ELECTION RETURNS.

Totals of the Poll in the Several Districts.

The figures given yesterday for the constitutional convention election in Maui were incomplete. Later news enables the returns to be completed with the results below. The whole district comprises the islands of Maui, Molokai and Lanai. The first four candidates having the highest number of votes ought to be elected, but it seems that Mr. Pogue does not want the position and thereby hangs a dispute:

J. W. KALEA	473
H. P. BALDWIN	362
J. K. JOSEPH	315
W. F. POGUE	290
W. Y. HORNER	250

Secured His Services.

Mr. V. G. Potter, crayon and water-color artist, who has been visiting the islands for his health, has made an engagement with Mr. J. J. Williams. Mr. Potter's work while in San Francisco was second to none. Samples will be on exhibition at our studio, 102 Fort street.

Abraham Fernandez has retired from the management of the Honolulu Hardware Company. He has had much experience in the hardware trade. Geo. E. Smithies, lately Registrar of Public Accounts, is holding down the Honolulu's business desk in Mr. Fernandez's stead.

A Portuguese was found guilty in the District Court yesterday of larceny of a branch of a tree and sentenced to three days' imprisonment at hard labor. The tree grew in the defendant's yard and the branch hung over the premises of Thomas Nott. The Portuguese went over and lopped the branch off. For this proceeding he is imprisoned. His counsel has appealed the case.

Rain is money in these islands when it comes the right time to raise cane. To get interest on the money besides, Hendry's cultivating implements, elsewhere mentioned, will be effective. With money free and easy, people can have all the comforts of home, which include good stoves, lawn sprinklers, table ware and a locked wire fence around the lot. For all these means of domestic felicity the Hawaiian Hardware Company's store is the repository.

A PROMISING LAD.

He is a Half-caste Brought Up by a Chinaman.

There is a young half-caste in town named Willie Crawford. There would be nothing strange in that, were it not for the fact that he dresses like a Chinaman and sports a queue. Willie's father is an old whaler named Crawford, and his mother is a native. The latter is still living, but old Crawford is dead. He died shortly after Willie was born. Mrs. Crawford not being in the best of circumstances gave Willie over to a Chinese friend, and the latter brought him up so well that the boy, who is now about eighteen years of age, has adopted the Chinese custom. He speaks the language fluently and is at present engaged as Chinese clerk in the office of W. C. Achi. He is generally about the station watching for clients. Willie also speaks the English and Hawaiian languages, having for years attended St. Louis College. He is a promising lad, and if he perseveres in his present study he will rise to fame.

POLICE DRUNK ON DUTY.

Strange Exhibitions Under the New Order.

There was a regular howl during Marshal C. B. Wilson's incumbency about the rottenness of the police force, but what has it been since Marshal Hitchcock has entered office? There have been cases of decent people being held up and insulted by the police while riding about town, quiet people brutally assaulted and others subjected to imprisonment on petty charges, only to be released. To cap the climax the residents of Honolulu are witnesses to intoxicated officers in full uniform with batons in their belts standing on street corners. On Wednesday last officer Boyd stood at the corner of Bethel and King streets, within a block of the Station, under the influence of liquor, and insulted passersby, paying offensive attention to women. After hours of indecent display of official pomposity Boyd was recalled and locked up. It is understood he has been relieved of his uniform. This man had been under the influence of liquor several times while doing duty. On Wednesday last he left the Station to go on duty "rolling."

Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning a Chinaman reported to the Deputy Marshal that a drunken officer had smashed the window of his store on Maunakea street. A brother officer went with the complainant and found officer Ku in possession of Maunakea street. He was promptly hustled to the Police Station and taken below. Ku will probably get his walking papers.

In the case of Boyd conjectures have been made as to where he got his liquor, as all the saloons were closed that day. Perhaps the "swipes" shops could tell lots were they able to talk. So might the Tong Hing Society building.

Hood's and Only Hood's.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Pipsissewa, Juniper berries and other well known remedies, by a peculiar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative powers not possessed by other medicines. It effects remarkable cures when other preparations fail.

Hood's Pills cure biliousness.

An Honest Medicine

Rheumatism Cured—Health Built Up.
Mr. Churchill, formerly of Churchill & Taylor, surveyors and civil engineers, Mt. Vernon, Washington, writes: "Southern California was my home for many years. When I came here I began to be afflicted all over with

Rheumatism
And also pains in my back and a general feeling of being used up. My business affairs were not in the elements all the time, and I found myself unfit for work. Having an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and learning also that the medicine was compounded in my own State of Massachusetts, I concluded to try it. I have never since been troubled with it. It has cured me." R. H. Churchill.

HOBSON, NEWMAN & CO.,

The Tagawa Coal Mine is located in Fukuoka Ken in the Island of Kinshui, Japan, and was discovered about twenty years ago. It was owned by the government and mined simply for the government's use.

Great improvements, however, were made since it was sold to a corporation about six years ago, by importing mining machinery from Europe and America.

Tagawa Coal is used more than all other Japanese coals in the following countries: China, Manila and Strait Settlements. It has found its way even to Bombay.

Two cargoes have been imported into the Hawaiian Islands recently, and it has no superior in this market as stove or steam coal.

WHY LUCOL

IS THE BEST

PAINT OIL.

Dries perfectly solid in about twenty hours.
Forms a durable and elastic, not a brittle
coating.
Retains its gloss longer than any other oil.
Resists the action of acids and alkalis
better than any other oil.
Flows freely from the brush without running and spreads well.
With the addition of litharge, yields a hard surface, suitable for floors, steps, etc.
Mixes readily with pigments ground in oil in paste form.
Brings out the real shades of the colors
and keeps them unaltered.
Is a solvent for the most delicate of the new color tar colors.
Added to varnish greatly improves the working of the varnish.
Does not darken white lead or any delicate colors.
Has greater body than any other oil.
Requires one-third less pigment than any other oil.
Can be thinned with turpentine.
By actual tests, has outlasted the best
linseed oil.
Therefore, is the best paint oil ever manufactured.

Can be added to linseed oil and it will greatly improve the linseed.
Can be thinned with turpentine.
By actual tests, has outlasted the best
linseed oil.
Therefore, is the best paint oil ever manufactured.

Direction for Use.
Use Lucol in every respect in the same manner as you would linseed oil, with the single exception that you may add fully one-quarter more Lucol to the same quantity of pigment than you would of linseed.
In using metallic Venetian red, the ultramarine and other dry pigments, it is advisable to mix up the paint at least one day before it is to be used, then add a third more Lucol, and the paint will be found to cover well and have a good gloss.

NEVER USE JAPANESE
Where hard surfaces such as floors,
steps, etc., are required use linseed
oil, never use Japanese.

LUCOL MIXES WITH VAR-NISHES
and assists their working and improves their appearance. BUT THEY SHOULD BE USED SAME DAY. THEY ARE SIXTWO OILS TWICE THE QUANTITY OF THE varnish may be precipitated or the mixture curdled.

The addition of from 4 to 8 of Lucol to varnishes does not reduce their tensile strength, but it does not retard their drying and it prevents their cracking.
